Dorothy Wood : Crafting with Nature in a Weekend before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Crafting with Nature in a Weekend:

2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Just what I neededBy Preston BlantonThis book is just what I needed. Our parents are getting up in age and its hard to buy for them. But this Christmas I am planning to make the house number sign I found in the book for them, along with some other projects for our selves and as gifts. Just looking through the book gave me other ideas too. Very creative and simple, but beautiful crafts. Thank you.

This book takes crafting to a new level with the innovative use of natural materials such as seeds, sea shells, small stones, dried and pressed flowers, egg shells, wood and pine cones. The 16 projects, plus numerous illustrated variation ideas, are divided into 5 chapters, exploring the use of materials gathered from various sources. The materials can be collected and prepared by the crafter, with step-by-step advice provided showing how to dry, press and store materials. Or they can just as easily be bought commercially, and a full suppliers listing is provided. Many of the projects have the advantage of being beautifully fragranced.
