I have used this product in educational programs years ago, and I was delighted to find it still available from Dover By Bob Hendrickson This product is worth the attention of those interested in paper sculpture because with some advanced techniques the buildings can be charming. If you are a HO train buff, here is a great little village. You need to create your own wood sheds and out houses etc., but the structures can be reinforced for packing away from time to time. For educators, these buildings can be good visuals for literature of all sorts dealing with New England. Also, see the other Dover products, like the Viking Village or castles that can help students visualize history and older cultures.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five StarsBy TootsNice design and fun to build.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Received a clean book in very good condition; accurate colors (not faded)By CustomerExactly as I remembered. Getting back into HO model railroading. Planning to use buildings as a quick-start on the layout and for proportion when we make scratch built buildings. Received a clean book in very good condition; accurate colors (not faded). Mailed in weather protected packaging;.

Printed in full color on heavy cardboard stock. 12 authentic buildings in HO scale: Adams home in Quincy, Massachusetts; Oliver Wight house in Sturbridge, smithy, store, church, others.
