The talented artist, Marilyn Henry, colored four pages of clothes. As always, she did a magnificent job. BEAUTIFUL!2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. These brought back childhood memoriesBy Martina CarlsonThese were featured in my ladies luncheon and as I was preparing them I found myself looking back over my childhood with wonderful memories.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Glamor girlBy Mastro familyThere pretty close to the reel thing but some of the colors,and patterns are different.I don't mind because its hard to copy the vintage fashion look. I'm just glad to have them

A glorious screen goddess, Esther Williams' splashy glamour starred in legendary MGM aquatic extravaganzas of the 1940s and 50s. This 1953 reproduction paper doll includes evening wear, day dresses and beach clothes for two Esther

Williams dolls. This edition includes eight pages of clothes with four costume pages colored by Marilyn Henry plus an added star biography by David Wolfe.

If you love any of the following, you'll love this new paper doll book: the artwork of Marilyn Henry, the movies of the 1950s, the fashions of the 1950s, or Esther Williams. Marilyn is a genius at recreating all of those things above! Actually, she's even better than those '50s artists! There is a wealth of fashions from nearly every film Esther was ever in ranging from sports outfits, day wear, evening attire, and (of course) a choice of swim suits for every occasion. My favorites are, of course, those least appropriate for normal life. With a figure maintained by Esther's swimming, the form-fitting evening wear can't lose! A gold one with a cascade of white flowers catches the eye. An elegant black one would catch eyes in any era, including today! A sparkling white one from Duchess of Idaho would be a smash even today. Marilyn's exquisite artwork, in reality, makes for a super visit to that nostalgic era. --Cornerstones, A Paper Doll Journal

About the Author
Renowned artist Marilyn Henry has created a series of celebrity paper doll books to fit in with the classic paper dolls of the 1940s. The pages are beautifully designed with star photos and page decorations to enhance the wardrobes of movie costumes. Wonderful likenesses and expertly illustrated fashions have made Marilyn's paper dolls highly sought after by paper doll collectors and fans of movie memorabilia. Her current titles for Paper Studio Press include paper dolls of Marilyn Monroe and Ginger Rogers, Jane Powell, Leslie Caron and Loretta Young. After a career as a fashion illustrator and art instructor, Marilyn is currently the art director and co-editor of the Paperdoll magazine.
