That being said, I was already familiar with some of Alice Underwood and Sue Parker designs through the online site of Ravelry. For me, this book is a jumping off point- I may not always agree with color choices or embellishments- the pattern shapes and designs overall hold a great deal of possibility. From my point of view, this is not a book to make an exact copy of the bag shown- it's an inspiration guide (with instructions) on how to make knitting into an entirely new shape and fabric that is truly your own.3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Love the Bag on the CoverBy Elizabeth06492A common complaint I read about pattern books, is that the best is on the cover. That accurately describes this book. Of the 30 bags, I would make two of them.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. I like the way the instructions are laid out and the handle suggestions, along with variations for the handles.

Women love handbags and now they can combine their passion for pocketbooks with their love of crafting with this fabulous felting handbook. It features 30 projects ranging from chic and elegant to fun and funky. There's something for every knitter, including a colorful Safari shoulder bag inspired by traditional African motifs; an Inca Hat design; a stunning Kilim shopper sack in vibrant shades; a cable clutch, and more. Easy-to-follow patterns, difficulty ratings, and an illustrated techniques section mean that even complete beginners can get in on the fun!

About the Author Alice Underwood and Sue Parker discovered a shared passion for all things crafty when they first met in 2000. Despite having learned many different crafts, they had always focused on textiles and yarn. In 2005, after attending a knitting design course, they began designing and felting bags. The result is their knit and felt company, Sheepfold, and this, their first book. Also available: I [Heart] Felt 9781561589524
