Let your imagination take flight with this clever guide to playing to freeform crocheting. Each project featured in this book encourages crafters to hone their own style while taking their skills and creativity to whole new levels. Inside, readers will find: 30 gorgeous projects, including a wavy beanie hat, fingerless gloves, slippers, cup cozy, floral filler shawl, and more. Clear step-by-step photography and simple instructions that explain the five foundations of freeform crochet. Chapters organized by themes: Spirals and Circles; Organic; Openwork and Lace; Patchwork and Squares; and Fillers, Trims, and Embellishments. Discover the joy of being creative with your stitches and shapes, playing with color and texture, and letting your yarn and hook take you on an uncharted journey to artistic surprises. Remember, there is no right or wrong here. Only freeform with confidence!

* Starred - Needlecraft-design talent can be found on all sides of the Atlantic, as proven by this Glasgow, Scotland, export. Rowan Yarns designer Meldrum helps readers investigate the possibilities of freeform crochet in an organized manner that few, if any, books have accomplished to date. This notion of letting fingers, yarn, and hooks go on a tangent is alien to most who grew up with the pattern-reading-and-following approach. Yet Meldrum makes it accessible to anyone, structuring the information by shapes: patchwork and squares; circles and spirals; organic patterns; openwork and lace; trims, edgings, and fillers. At the beginning is a well-worthwhile introduction to be thoroughly read; in many step-by-step photographs, it covers measuring gauge, crochet stitches and techniques, color increases and decreases, and the like. Knowledge enough to begin a freeform project without a veteran by your side. Even more encouraging are the 30 patterns with directions, from fingerless gloves and an infinity scarf to a layered brooch and granny chic top. Creativity, explored. Booklist About the Author Carol Meldrum was taught to knit, crochet, and sew at a young age by her mother and grandmother. She has worked within the textile industry as a designer for many high street fashion outlets, as well as at the internationally renowned hand-knit label, Rowan. Her unique take on all things textile can be found online at www.beatknit.com and in select boutiques in Scotland. As a teacher, she hopes that the skills handed down to her from past generations will inspire others to produce new and exciting projects today.
